

Let's Work Together—Valorie Clark

I'm so honored that you're here! I'm a fiction/non-fiction writer and editor. I've collaborated with many clients and outlets across several different genres to produce all sorts of writing projects—from developing moving body positivity articles to crafty coffee cocktail recipes, from launching an alternative health website to tips to help you travel smarter, and from content editing a fantasy novel to whipping up no-nonsense advice columns.

Want to collaborate? Great!

To get in touch about writing an article, advice column, text to a would-be lover, or anything else, shoot me an email at hey@thevalorieclark.com

For editing, here are packages I have available:

The Grammarian

I want to help you make sure your sentences make sense. Send me your draft and I'll go through it with a fine-tooth comb, putting commas in their places and fine-tuning your verb tenses.

$30 per hour, minimum 1 hour. Includes two rounds of edits.

King Content

You know what you're doing with semicolons, but you want to make sure your writing has sparkle. I'll go through your draft to make sure your actors stay in place and your message shines through.

$30 per hour, minimum 1 hour. Includes two rounds of edits.

Full House

All of it—I'll double check all of it. Commas? In their places. Apostrophes? Carrying only their load. Your main idea? Shining bright. I'll go through your draft and make sure your grammar is impeccable and your flow is on point.

$50 per hour, minimum 1 hour. Includes two rounds of edits.

Contact me at hey@thevalorieclark.com with the name of the editing package you're after, and we'll get cracking!
